A tribute to the BRAVEHEARTS of

NSG

by PRAVIN TALAN

NSG

NATIONAL SECURITY GUARD

It is an immense honour to lead the National Security Guard, a force that stands as a vital pillar of India's internal security architecture, entrusted with responding to the gravest threats to the nation. Raised in 1984 as a Federal Contingency Force, the NSG has steadily evolved in capability, doctrine, and operational reach to keep pace with emerging and complex security challenges, ensuring a swift and effective response across diverse operational environments.

The NSG continues to strengthen its counter-terrorism, counter-hijack, bomb disposal, close protection, and specialised intervention capabilities through continuous innovation, rigorous training, and focused capacity building. Guided by professionalism, precision, and the principle of "Duty to Share," the Force has institutionalised cooperation through structured Memorandum of Understanding with State Police Forces, reinforcing the national counter-terrorism framework through joint training, interoperability, and shared operational preparedness.

In recent years, the NSG has expanded its operational envelope to address non-traditional and evolving threat domains, including specialised Counter-Hijack (CH) exercises on inland water transport systems such as riverine and cruise vessels, reflecting its adaptability in securing critical transportation infrastructure. To further strengthen capacity building, a state-of-the-art Special Operations Training Centre is envisaged at the NSG Garrison, Manesar, with immersive IR/VR-based training for State Police Forces, CAPFs, friendly foreign countries, and NSG personnel. In addition, four dedicated Centres of Excellence are being established under the NSG Training Academy for Counter-Terrorism, Bomb Disposal and Counter-IED, Hostage Negotiation, and Post-Blast Investigation.

Technological integration remains central to this approach, marked by the launch of the National IED Data Management System (NIDMS) by the National Bomb Data Centre (NBDC)—a "One Nation, One Data Repository" platform strengthening India's Counter-IED framework through improved post-blast investigations, institutional memory, and inter-agency coordination nationwide. With strategically located hubs and a highly trained force drawn from the Army, CAPFs, and State Police, the NSG maintains a high state of readiness to respond decisively whenever the nation calls.

The NSG Mt Satopanth Expedition Team during the successful summit of Mt Satopanth (7,075 m), demonstrating exceptional grit, endurance and teamwork. The expedition formed part of NSG's preparatory mountaineering efforts towards the Mt Everest Expedition 2026.

A few powerful glimpses from NSG Counter-Hijack (CH) exercises on Inland Water Transport modes, showcasing tactical aerial insertions, combat diving insertions, vessel domination, and rescue drills aboard riverine and cruise vessels across the Ganges at Ravidas Ghat, Varanasi, and the Brahmaputra at Sarai Ghat, Guwahati—reflecting the NSG's expanding operational envelope in response to non-traditional and evolving threat landscapes.
